This Erail carrier is constructed from a Steel 'U' shaped body to which four wheels are attached. The wheels are ball raced ensure a silent operation.

Fixed to the bottom of the carrier are two plates that can separate and clamp together to provide cable management along with the half-pipe section below to help reduce the chance of the cable being damaged by over bending.

The clamp should be tight enough that it's only pinching the cables, the clamp does not need to be fully tightened down.
